McRAE, GA.

DEAR SIR:

I am an experienced man in my particular line of business—and with this experience I have learned to do work that stands the test of time and weather. Every man, nearly, that has ever had a metal roof has had trouble from leaks—haven't you? I come with an absolute guarantee to stop these leaks or no money is paid me. Isn't this a fair proposition?

I stop any kind of old leaks and if our work doesn't do this then you owe me nothing?

I use "Ray's Roof Paint" for painting metal and composition roofs, and have done so for six years and never a kick yet. If you need any work done would be pleased to hear from you.

Very truly,

J. W. RAY.

The Real "Yellow Peril."

Japan's triumph in the current war in the Far East, which is believed, by almost certain followers, to be a Japanese virtual protectorate over China, as well as the domination by the Mikado's government of the kingdom of Korea. That would bring approximately 500,000,000 Asiatics under the direct or indirect control of the Tokio government. How would the white-skinned races be affected by the consolidation of the yellow skinned under an intelligent and progressive leadership?

Many writers, considering the possibility of Japanese success, have predicted a "yellow peril" in the form of an outpouring of the yellow people from Asia into Europe and the menacing of European civilization and customs. But American and European observers who have gone to the Far East to watch the progress of the war are rapidly abandoning that opinion. Apparently they have no fear of a physical menace from the yellow people, but they assert that there is grave danger of a commercial menace that would probably be of far-reaching effect.

It is to be kept in mind that the Eastern peoples have made no advances for "open doors" in the West. Meanwhile the West has steadily encroached upon the East, demanding trade privileges and teaching the Orientals the use of commodities previously unknown to them. Japan has shown herself capable, by imitation, of supplying herself with most of the wants which foreigners first engendered. She is now a great manufacturing country and is growing greater at a rapid rate. And while she is thus growing in manufacturing, she is discouraging trade with Europeans and other whites. It is said that a Japanese merchant will not trade with a white manufacturer if he can possibly procure the articles he wants from a Japanese manufacturer. The war, contrary to expectations, has not enlivened the business of foreign houses in Japan, but has had precisely an opposite effect.

The Chinese people are credited with being more steady and intelligent workers than the Japanese. They learn quickly and are faithful and reliable. Should an effort be made to develop China along the line that Japanese has been developed, with strong and brainy men at the head of the movement, it is predicted that Chinese progress would be twice as rapid as was that of the Japanese.

In a quarter of a century there would be created a manufacturing element, with the wonderfully cheap labor of the Orient, that Occidental manufacturers would find it impossible to compete against. Raw materials, indeed, could be carried from Europe or America to Japan or China and there manufactured, and the finished products be returned to Europe or America and sold for less prices than finished similar products could be sold for at the source of supply of raw material. That is the "real yellow peril" as Americans in Japan now see it.—Savannah News.

POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Political events are shaping themselves rapidly as the time approaches for the last of the states to appoint their delegations to St. Louis. From first to last, it has been a fight of the whole field of presidential possibilities against Hearst. Parker has been out but one factor and a rather insignificant one in the combination against the able and popular New York Editor. By combining all the elements of opposition and, when that scheme failed, by the notorious "favorite son" dodge, Hearst delegations have failed in numbers of states where, on a fair test of strength with Parker or any other one candidate he would have succeeded. It has been plainly shown that Hearst is a more popular candidate than Parker though, owing to the combinations of the friends of all the candidates and the tickery of the Hill management, the latter will probably poll a larger vote on the first ballot in the convention. That will be Parker's only chance of the nomination. Only the blindest and most ignorant partisans of the dummy candidate think that he has the ghost of a shot for success. The efforts of partisan organs to stampede state conventions for him, following the action of New York, have been utter and ridiculous failures.

It is quite apparent that Hearst, also, will fail of the nomination. —But his following will, no doubt, embrace more than a third of the convention, and so will be able to hold the balance of power as between other candidates. They will be able to make sure the defeat of Belmont's Wall Street candidate, and that will be glory enough for one day. Whatever may be the outcome, there is no danger that a weaker man than Parker will be nominated.

The Ishmaelite has no doubt that Cleveland expects to be nominee of the convention, but it has no fear of it. The party isn't ready to commit suicide. There is no danger that two-thirds of the St. Louis convention will be made up of fools, which would be necessary to the making of such a selection possible.

In view of all these conditions, which are plain to the more intelligent of the Georgia Parkers, it is not likely that the state convention, which will meet in Atlanta next Wednesday, will hamper the delegates with instructions. The fictitious enthusiasm of the Parker organs has about burnt itself out, and it is probable that the action of the convention will be characterized by a subordination of personalism to the good of the cause of Democracy.—Ishmaelite.

What to Wear to St. Louis

The World's Fair at St. Louis will attract many this year—even the most "stay-at-home" women will be tempted away. Some of the do's and don'ts gathered by experience at the Chicago and Buffalo expositions will, I hope, be of service to the woman who travels alone.

The first "don't" is baggage. Don't take any. Be courageous and masculine—confine yourself to a dress-suit case. It will hold everything necessary for a month's stay if only a little ingenuity is used in preparing your outfit.

Laundry is one of the heaviest and most annoying items when a city is crowded by strangers, so this should be heroically curtailed. Elaborate lingerie must be left at home.

Four combination garments of thin cotton, with low necks and short sleeves, cost only 75c each, and will be light and cool. The laundry charge for washing them is ten cents. They also possess the advantage of taking up very little space. Two night gowns of simple pattern, with square and kimono sleeves, trimmed only with feather-stitching or French knots, will be found pretty and comfortable, and most important of all, come under the head of plain gowns on the laundry list. A dozen handkerchiefs, four simple corset-covers, four pairs of cotton hose (let me warn you not to get Hise-thread ones, for they make the feet burn and ache when much walking has to be done), a pair of slippers, a pair of light weight shoes and a thin kimono will all pack into one side of the case and leave space for comb, brush, soap, wash-cloth, and a box for hair-pins—the limit of the accessories you can allow yourself. The other side of the case must be left free for the best dress.—June Woman's Home Companion.

Young Maues hired a team from Mr. McLemore on last Thursday for the purpose of going to Emt. It is alleged that he drove all over a good portion of that section of the county, and sent the horse in about 9 o'clock on Thursday night with his back all cut in gashes and bleeding from the liberal use of a raw hide whip. The horse had what you might call the thumps and died in about 30 minutes after he was delivered to the stables.

Judge E. D. Holland heard the evidence, and so complete was the case made out that young Maues' attorney admitted enough to plead. The only plea made for him was that the amount of the bond he made as light as possible. He was committed to the city court under a $100 bond.

Rockal at Brooklet.

The recital given by the music class on the evening of May 25th was a grand success and much enjoyed by the very large crowd present. The parlor was tastefully decorated in green, pink and white, which showed up beautifully under the red lights. Special mention should be made of the arrangement of the many beautiful roses, also a large vase of Easter lilies, a dozen or more in number.

First number on the program, a quartet by Misses Zuleme and Carabell Lane and Messrs. P. B. Lewis and R. W. Rustin was especially good.

It was remarkable to note the manner in which the tiny tots of six and seven years played their duets and solos.

The playing by the older pupils was more than was expected and all that could be desired.

The songs "Honey Youse My Lady Lou" by Miss Mamie Morgan, and "On The Ohio" by Miss Corine Lee, the latter given in costume, were particularly enjoyed. These little girls deserve special commendation for the manner in which they sang.

The recitations by members of Miss Claudia Hodges elocution class added much to the already well selected program. All the pupils did well and by their excellent work reflected much credit upon their teacher, Miss Mamie Adams, a teacher of recognized talent and ability, who has had charge of the unusually large music class for the past year.

BLOODY CHARGES COST JAPS DEARLY.

Tokio, May 28.—The Japanese assault on Nan-Shan hill was one of the fiercest and bloodiest affairs in modern warfare.

In the earlier rushes of the engagement every man participating was shot down before he reached the first line of Russian trenches.

It was found necessary to stop these infantry charges and renew the artillery fire from the rear before the final and successful assault on the Russian position could be made.

The success of this assault was brought about by one detachment of Japanese troops, more intrepid than their comrades, who succeeded in piercing the Russian line.

Early in the action a shell passed over the forward deck of the Chokai, killing a lieutenant and wounding two petty officers and wounding two petty officers and wounding two petty officers.

The torpedo boat flotilla shelled the railroad near the Shiao river. The torpedo boats took sounding and guided the larger ships. The squadron advanced with the Japanese right flank and aided in covering it.

Later in the day the falling tide compelled the withdrawal of the larger warships. Captain Hoyashi, commander of the Chokai, was killed by the explosion of a shell near one of the ship's guns. Four other men were wounded.

The vessels themselves were not damaged.

RUSSIANS IN KOREA
DON'T WORRY JAPS

Tokio, May 28.—The Japanese are not seriously disturbed by the Russian operations in eastern Korea. The movements of the Cosack cavalry and battery of guns that accompanies them is being closely watched by the Japanese, who are confident in their ability to protect their communications and maintain the military supremacy of Japan in Korea. The Yalu victory which opened the Yalu estuary to water communication diminished the importance of the land communications from Chinnampo to Wiju. The loss of their naval power compels the Russians to avoid the sea along the eastern coast of Korea and limits their operations to the land where transportation difficulties prevent the concentration and operation of a large land force.

BLOCKADE OF PENINSULA DECLARED BY JAPANESE

Washington, May 28.—Minister Grieco cables the state department from Tokio under today's date that the Japanese government declares the Liao-Tung peninsula from Pitsewo to Pulletan to be in a state of blockade.

OREL WILL BE WRECKED BY RUSSIAN OFFICERS

Paris, May 28.—The correspondent of The Journal, at St. Petersburg, says naval officers there consider the battle ship Orel will be a total loss. Her keel, it is said, is split.

PORT ARTHUR TO FALL SECOND WEEK IN JUNE

Paris, May 28.—The Tokio correspondent of the Matin says that the second line of defense on the Liao-Tung peninsula has been occupied by the Japanese without resistance.

The authorities expect, the correspondent adds, that Port Arthur will fall during the second fortnight in June.

CHARGES OF INFANTRY AIDED BY JAP WARSHIPS

The Japanese squadrons, which was assigned to co-operate in the attack of the second army in Kin Chou and Nan-Shan hill composed gunboats Thukishi, Anagi, Heyien and Chokai, and the first torpedo boat flotilla entered Kin Chou bay on Wednesday. A heavy sea prevented its participation in the fighting of that day.

The weather clear, the squadron steamed close to shore and in spite of the shallowness of the water the squadron steamed close to shore and bombarded the Russian batteries.

Early in the action a shell passed over the forward deck of the Chokai, killing a lieutenant and wounding two petty officers and wounding two petty officers.

The People of Millen

Want a New County.

Our progressive sister city, Millen, is pushing its claims for a new county to be made from Bullock, Emanuel, Tattnall and Burke.

We know of no section of the state that has as many new counties as the south Georgia section, and we know of no town we had rather see become a county capitol than the pushing, progressive city of Millen.

If a constitutional amendment allowing the formation of new counties can be passed in the legislature submitting the question to a vote, the people of the state may decide to pass it, and the result would be several new counties in the lower part of the state.

It would be to the advantage of this section to have smaller counties as their political power would be increased.

Besides this, the people would not have so far to go to get to their county seats. Millen is right in the corner of the four biggest counties in the state, with fine railroad facilities, and with up-to-date merchants like the Daniels, Palmers, Parkers, Wallis and others who are the kind of men to make a big town and a success of a new county, aided by the splendid farmers of the contiguous territory. Her citizens are agitating and pushing the movement, aided by that fine paper, the Millen News, of which Hon. Alfred Herrington, solicitor general, poet, wit, lecturer, farmer and gentleman is the editor in chief. When the new county is established we shall insist that the S & S railroad be extended at once to that city, and then we can shake hands direct with our neighbor across the Ogeechee.

Teach the Boys to Swim

Boys are naturally amphibious animals. As soon as the warm breath of spring comes up from the south and the sunshine has tempered the chill that winter placed upon the water, a youth's thoughts inevitably turn to the river as the Mecca of his idle hours. There he can divest himself of his useless trappings of civilization and disport himself, unhandicapped, in the limbo stream, laying up new stores of energy as well as recollections of boyhood's joys that will cling to him down to the days of old age.

To keep a real live boy, brimful of animal spirits, away from the water, is a sheer impossibility. A boy that does not yearn for the river is lacking in some of the basic principles that tend to make him a genuine man later on. Mother's fears and father's threats have no effect. Whippings may deter while the sting is on the flesh, but no longer. Just as the bees gravitate to the flowers that are sweetest, so the boys flock to the water.

Every year, in every community of any size, some boy is drowned. In 90 per cent of the cases it is a boy who was never taught to swim. The responsibility for the lad's death lay at the parents' door. They knew of his craving for aquatic pleasures. The father, at least, knew from his own experience how great the temptation and how impossible its resistance. If he had done his duty by the boy he would have either taught him to swim or had some one else give him the lessons that were needed to make him an expert in the water. A few life preservers at the most would have done the work.

Teach your boy to swim. It will not only be the means of giving him an immense amount of pleasure, but it may save his life and you a heart burden that will cling throughout life.—Ex.

THE LESSON OF A TRAGIC DEATH

It ain't no use for you to me
To fuss and fret and worry;
It ain't no use to be
In such a awful hurry.

For we can't push of time along—
Life's a race, and you're a long way
An' take the life like a horse went,
An' be content.

It ain't no use for us to borrow
Trouble an' discontentment
From the plans laid for tomorrow
Or the yesterday's event,
For each day brings its troubles to
All of us, but the skies are blue,
An' God's own sunshine still is sent—
Let be content.

It ain't no use to lose the day
Because we've lost an hour;
If we're a weed we will not say
"I should a' been a flower!"
Altho' destitute of beauty,
We can strive to do our duty
An' grasp each blessed God has sent
An' be content.

It ain't no use to cuss yo' fate
When the fish ain't on yo' line;
Do take yo' look at 'n' wait—
Does wait an' keep a tryin'!
Does he right easy—sing yo' song—
After a while de fish'll come long.
O! let us sing ere life is spent.
An' be content.

—Rex.

A STARTLING TEST.

To save a life, Dr. T. G. Merritt, of No. 100, Main St., Pa., made a startling test resulting in a wonderful cure. He writes: "A patient was attacked with violent hemorrhages, caused by ulceration of the stomach. I had often found Electric Bitters excellent for acute stomach and liver troubles so I prescribed them. The patient gained from the first, and has not had an attack in 14 months." Electric Bitters are positively guaranteed for Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Constipation and Kidney troubles. Try them. Only 50c. at W. H. Ellis.

Weak lungs should be careful, coughs and colds are dangerous then. One Minute Cough Cure cures coughs and colds and gives strength to the lungs. Mrs. G. E. Fenner, of Marion, Ind., says, "I suffered with a cough until I run down in weight from 148 lbs. I tried a number of remedies but no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by W. H. Ellis.

Young Plants

Every farmer knows that some plants grow better than others. Soil may be the same and seed may seem the same but some plants are weak and others strong.

And that's the way with children. They are like young plants. Same food, same home, same care but some grow big and strong while others stay small and weak.

Scott's Emulsion offers an easy way out of the difficulty. Child weakness often means starvation, not because of lack of food, but because the food does not feed.

Scott's Emulsion really feeds and gives the child growing strength.

Whatever the cause of weakness and failure to grow—Scott's Emulsion seems to find it and set the matter right.

One Freedman's Lucky Deal

The news comes from Asheville that Charles Collins, the negro whose little homestead of 6 acres occupied the heart of the Vanderbilt estate, has at last been tempted to transfer his property to the lord of Baltimore for "a fancy consideration."

An interesting story is this, throwing some light on negro character. When George Vanderbilt's agents discovered his paradise in Buncombe county and secretly bought out the small farmers whose combined holdings were to constitute his baronial estate, they struck one petty landlord in the dusky Asheville hack driver who could not be persuaded to part with his home for many times its value. The old darky, Charlie Collins, born in slavery and an independent specimen of his race, simply said he had no land to sell.

There were those who declared the old negro was simply a shrewd real estate speculator, holding out for his price. Others said, notwithstanding he was a hack driver that he had no adequate conception of the value of money when placed in the balance against the sentimentality of home.

It was some ten or twelve years ago that Collins got wide newspaper notoriety by reason of his refusal to let Vanderbilt have his farm, and all this time he has been quietly in the center of the big park-like estate, going to and from his hack stand on the court house square over the magnificent macadam, flower-lined driveways of "Baltimore Farm." For a time the Vanderbilt agents renewed their offers, but the old negro simply replied, with a quaint humor, that he had found "Marse Vanderbilt a mighty good neighbor," who "nebbber boddere me for none," and did not care to move.

At length the officers ceased, and it is said Collins began to show a disposition to come to terms. Vanderbilt, perhaps, nettled by the darky's stubbornness, is said to have shown a disposition to keep the unwelcome freeholder on the anxious seat, his agent telling the old man that Mr. Vanderbilt had found him to be a pretty good neighbor and now was contented to let him spend his days inside the Baltimore lines.

In the last few years there was no talk of a transfer by the Vanderbilt interests. Whether by design or not, Collins rented his 6 acre farm to a negro family who were anything but desirable neighbors. The immediate effect was to reawaken interest in the purchase of the tract by the master of Baltimore. Collins was approached again, and he is believed to have "got his price." In addition to the fancy figure, he imposed other conditions that go to show his thrifty nature. Mr. Vanderbilt bound himself to build for the old darky a comfortable cottage elsewhere and keep the same in repair during the life of the occupant. There is also gossip of a pension and more or less luxurious perquisites.

J. A. Gullage of Verbenia, Ala., was twice in the hospital from a severe case of piles causing 24 tumors. After doctors and all remedies failed, Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly arrested further inflammation and cured him. It conquers aches and kills pain. 25c. at W. H. Ellis.

STORM CENTERS OF REPUBLICANISM

Washington, May 25.—Democratic prospectors are trying to figure out the political effect of the rows now in progress among the Republican factions in Wisconsin and Illinois. These two states promise to be the storm center in the coming contest and both parties are going to make desperate efforts to capture them.

Some of the Democratic scouts now on duty in Wisconsin report that the conflict between the La Follette and the Spooner factions is so intense that there is no chance for a compromise. On the other hand, some of the reports coming from that state are to the effect that while the bitterness between the two branches of the Republican household will go to any extreme in state matters, they may stop and listen to party discipline in dealing with the national ticket.

The same reasoning is applied to the Republican situation in Illinois. However, the Democratic managers are disposed to take every advantage of the existing conditions in the Middle West for they realize that it will be necessary to capture Indiana, Illinois and perhaps Wisconsin, with New York, to land a winner in the White House.

Considerable grumbling is heard from Chicago by the men who are supposed to pay the expenses of the Republican National Convention. It is claimed that President Roosevelt is anticipating almost everything that is likely to occur at that gathering. "So few visitors are applying for accommodations in Chicago during the convention that it looks like a little Republican class meeting," was going to be held, instead of a great party revival," remarked a disgusted Chicago boomer, who is in Washington on convention business.

The base ball fever has cooled in Statesboro somewhat. The boys say they have conquered the field.

Marshal Mitchell created quite a stir among the upper tens in colored society circles when he put several street tax defaulters on the streets to shovel out $3.00 worth of tax money. It is said that it came near putting the colored base ball nine into bankruptcy.

It is said that the authorities have their weather eye on a certain character who has been hanging around these beats for some time without any job or visible means of support. A failure to come across once or twice more with a board bill may be the straw that will break the camel's back.

Judge J. W. Rountree and family who have had charge of the Central Hotel for several years, are moving out to Robert's mill where they will reside. Judge Rountree is putting everything in shape for a pleasure resort at his mill.

OBITUARY

In loving remembrance of my sweet little cousin, Dessie Holmes who died at the home of her grandparents in Statesboro, Ga. May 11th 1904

Dead, did I say? Ah, no! "There is no death: What seems so is transition: This life of mortal breath Is but a suburb of the life elysian, Whose portal we call death."

In our Father's house are many mansions, and it is there our dear little maiden has found her fitting home, and is happy in the love of her blessed Savior.

It was hard to give her up, this child of our tender love, but she surrendered herself gladly and without a sign of fear into the hands of the "boatman pale" well knowing the harbor would be reached in safety. She was happy in the thought of Heaven, and welcomed death as a release from severe physical suffering, home with the fitting resignation of her Christian character.

She was of a very attractive personality making many loyal friends. Beautiful in person, with a mind whose radiance was undimmed even to the last, daintily in manner, with love and forbearance for all, it was no wonder she was able to keep these friends.

She knew she could never be well again, and frequently during her long illness talked of death as only the truly good can talk. She had made all her arrangements, and we did all she requested as nearly as we could.

She is buried at Condor, Ga. by the side of her father. "We would not wish her back again Our treasure to the Giver, given. A link between our hearts and heaven. "Poor little tired heart: So patient, so brave and so strong Now wrapped in a heavenly quiet Beyond all sorrow and wrong. "It has found its refuge sweet, Its haven of peace and rest, She walketh the golden street Forever and ever blest."

Cousin Annie.

Leak Stopping A Specialty.

DEAR SIR:

I am an experienced man in my particular line of business—and with this experience I have learned to do work that stands the test of time and weather. Every man, nearly that has ever had a metal roof has had trouble from leaks—haven't you? I come with an absolute guarantee to stop these leaks or no money is paid me. Isn't this a fair proposition—I stop any kind of old leaks and if our work doesn't do this then you owe me nothing?

I use "Ray's Roof Paint" for painting metal and composition roofs, and have done so for six years and never a kick yet. If you need any work done would be pleased to hear from you.

Very truly,
J. W. RAY.

MALONE WINS IN 48TH.

After a very interesting election for magistrate in the 48th district on Saturday waged between Messrs. L. A. Wise, B. S. Mooney and J. J. Malone, the latter was elected by a very good majority and will fill out the unexpired term of the late C. R. Davis. The votes polled were as follows: Malone, 71; Mooney, 51; and Wise, 2.

Mr. Malone will doubtless make an excellent official.

Rain Worth Millions

To Southern Farmers

The rain of the past forty-eight hours means hundreds of thousands of dollars saved to the Georgia farmers and millions to the southern states.

Georgia was probably suffering more from the drought than any other cotton state, until relieved Sunday night and Monday. The northern portion of the state only was benefited by the first showers, but yesterday the southern half received general rains, with the exception of a few scattered sections in the extreme southeastern portion.

Men who have been over a great portion of the state say that the rains were too late to allow the state to turn out anything like a full crop, owing to the fact that the seed of about a third of the acreage planted had not germinated, and at this late date it is not probable that it can furnish the top crop, unless the season is an extremely late one.

The reports to the local weather bureau state that in many sections of the state the rice is increasing in the fields and doing considerable damage, another cause for alarm and which will be a further barrier toward a creditable crop. Corn is small and backward, poor to fair stands and tassel low in the southern part of the state. Spring oats are almost a failure in the majority of counties.

The outlook for a full peach crop is still encouraging and a fair crop of apples is indicated, but pears are generally poor, and the berry crop has been cut short.—Atlanta News.
